

Agenda

Micro-Credentialing Readiness: Conditions for Maturity and Impact

April 24, 2024 | 14:00-15:30 CET

-
- 14:00 Introduction to the theme by Mitchell Peters, Senior Researcher, Unit of Skills Foresight and Labour Market Analysis, Universitat Oberta de Catalunya
- 14:15 Presentations from the speakers
- 1. Paul den Hertog, Senior Advisor, SURF, The Netherlands
 - 2. Padmasheela Kiiskilä, (TAU) Researcher, Tampere University, Finland
 - 3. Lena Patterson, Interim Assistant Dean, Programs at Toronto Metropolitan University, Canada
- 15:00 Panel Discussion and Interaction with the Audience
- 15:20 Conclusions and Announcements

Micro-Credentialing Readiness: Conditions for Maturity and Impact

April 24, 2024 | 14:00-15:30 CET

A Knowledge Building Activity of the European Digital Education Hub

Context: The aim of the event – is to discuss the building movement of micro-credentialing in education, training and labour, linked with the European Approach to Microcredentials for Lifelong Learning and Employability. The focus will be placed on institutional readiness and conditions for reaching maturity and impact. The goal is to contribute to a European level conversation examining the conditions and drivers required for successful adoption, implementation and widespread impact across the European education and training sectors. The conversation will also consider 'what's next' in 2024 and beyond and contribute dialogue to a consensus-driven approach for micro-credentialing maturity and impact.

The event will take place in the Knowledge Building channel on the MS Teams platform of the European Digital Education Hub.

To register for the Hub
Click Here

Micro-Credentialing Readiness: Conditions for Maturity and Impact

Moderator
Mitchell Peters

Senior Researcher, Unit of Skills Foresight and Labour
Market Analysis, Universitat
Oberta de Catalunya

Mitchell Peters is a research lead in the Unit of Skills Foresight and Labour Market Analysis, at the Universitat Oberta de Catalunya (UOC). In the field of educational technology, his research interests include lifelong learning for employability and online higher education with an emphasis on interdisciplinary, mixed methods, and critical perspectives. He has published in leading peer-reviewed journals such as the British Journal of Educational Technology, Higher Education Research and Development, and the Australasian of Educational Technology. Currently he is UOC lead on a range of European projects on micro-credentialing, reskilling and upskilling in European higher education.

Speaker
Paul den Hertog

Senior Advisor, SURF, The Netherlands

Paul den Hertog is a retired DJ, sailor, design thinker and technology-consultant with a strong believe in the positive effect of education on both individuals and society. He is very motivated to contribute to flexible education and lifelong learning, applying emerging technologies in new contexts. Currently, he spends most of his time working on the design and implementation of the european digital identity wallet and micro-credentials.

Speaker
Padmasheela Kiiskilä

(TAU) Researcher, Tampere
University, Finland

Padmasheela Kiiskilä is a doctoral researcher NOVI unit, her current focus is on Micro-credentials from organisational perspective through the lens of knowledge management. Research is done as part of one the EU Commission initiatives, ECIU University (a Consortium of 14 European universities). Her current work involves working with the ECIU alliance partners in figuring out best way to offer and issue micro-credentials to all learners and how these micro-credentials can be used to enhance learner understanding of their competences and skills thus opening them to flexible learning pathways to achieve their goals.

Lena Patterson is Interim Assistant Dean, Programs at Toronto Metropolitan University, Canada. She is a higher education leader with 11 years experience and a Doctoral degree in Educational Leadership. Expert in virtual learning, microcredentials, education and industry pathways, skill gap analysis and assessment, and open education. Eight years experience working in and alongside government at the provincial and federal level. Five years experience on nonprofit Boards, two years experience as Board President.

Speaker
Lena Patterson

Interim Assistant Dean,
Programs at Toronto
Metropolitan University,
Canada

The European Digital Education Hub is an initiative of the European Commission, funded by the Erasmus+ programme (2021-2027) and operated by a consortium of 11 organisations led by DAAD, under a service contract with the European Education and Culture Executive Agency (EACEA).